campingbare adventures, inspiring you to embark on your own unforgettable wilderness journey.

Florida Bay: A Paddler's Paradise

Florida Bay, a vast and shallow estuary nestled between the Everglades and the Florida Keys, beckons kayakers and canoeists with its serene waters and abundant marine life. As you glide along the tranquil channels, keep an eye out for dolphins frolicking in the waves, playful manatees, and majestic osprey soaring overhead.

Campingbare on the pristine islands of Florida Bay offers a front-row seat to the wonders of the ecosystem. Set up camp on the sandy shores of Rabbit Key or Picnic Key, where you can revel in the solitude and soak in the breathtaking views of the bay. As night descends, witness the transformation of the sky into a celestial tapestry, adorned with countless stars twinkling above.

Campingbare Story: A Bioluminescent Night on Rabbit Key

On a warm summer evening, we paddled to Rabbit Key, our hearts filled with anticipation. As we set up camp on the secluded beach, darkness enveloped the island. Suddenly, the water around us transformed into a magical display of bioluminescence. With every stroke of our paddles, the water shimmered with an ethereal glow, creating an unforgettable spectacle against the backdrop of the starry sky.

Cape Sable: The Enchanting Gateway to the Everglades

At the southernmost tip of the Florida mainland lies Cape Sable, a remote and uninhabited wilderness that marks the gateway to the Everglades National Park. This rugged landscape, dotted with mangrove forests and sawgrass prairies, is home to a rich diversity of wildlife, including elusive Florida panthers, playful river otters, and countless wading birds.

Campingbare on Cape Sable offers a unique opportunity to immerse yourself in the heart of the Everglades ecosystem. Establish your campsite amidst the towering cypress trees or along the pristine beaches, where you can spend days exploring the surrounding wilderness on foot or by canoe. As the sun sets, gather around a campfire and share stories while the sounds of nature lull you into a peaceful slumber.

Campingbare Story: A Serendipitous Encounter with a Bobcat

During our expedition to Cape Sable, we ventured into the dense undergrowth, our eyes scanning for wildlife. As we quietly made our way through the vegetation, a sleek and elusive bobcat crossed our path. Its piercing gaze met ours for a brief moment before it vanished into the shadows. This unexpected encounter left us awestruck by the wild beauty and untamed spirit of Cape Sable.

Whitewater Bay: A Haven for Wildlife and Adventure

East of Cape Sable lies Whitewater Bay, a serene and undeveloped estuary that provides a haven for numerous wildlife species. Here, you can paddle through tranquil waters, surrounded by lush mangrove islands and teeming with marine life. Keep your eyes peeled for bottlenose dolphins, sea turtles, and a variety of wading birds that call this bay their home.

Campingbare on the secluded chickees (elevated wooden platforms) of Whitewater Bay offers an unparalleled opportunity to observe the wildlife up close. Spend your days exploring the intricate waterways by kayak or canoe, and as the sun begins to set, retreat to your chickee for a peaceful evening under the stars. The gentle lapping of the waves and the chorus of nature will create a symphony that lulls you into a deep and restful sleep.

Campingbare Story: A Sunrise Symphony on a Whitewater Bay Chickee

On a crisp autumn morning, we awoke on our chickee overlooking Whitewater Bay. As the first rays of sunlight pierced through the horizon, a breathtaking spectacle unfolded before our eyes. The sky erupted in a kaleidoscope of colors, painting the clouds in shades of gold, pink, and purple. The water below mirrored the vibrant hues, creating a canvas of natural beauty that left us speechless.
